

臺北市立大安高級工業職業學校 102 學年度第 1 次教師甄選

英文科筆試試題解答

作答說明：1. 請在彌封之答案卷上標明題號依序作答，答案卷上不得書寫姓名或作任何記號。

2. 全卷限用藍色或黑色單一顏色筆作答。

3. 作答時間 90 分鐘。

4. 本試題共四大題，滿分 100 分。

5. 交卷時請將試題卷與答案卷一併繳交。

6. 請於所發放的答案卷內完成作答，不加發答案卷。

I. Vocabulary: Choose the most appropriate word to complete each of the following sentences.
(40%, 2% for each)

1. The technology of cloning _____ both legal and ethical problems.
(A) rises (B) arises (C) raises (D) arouses
2. The desert area is _____ populated.
(A) sparsely (B) specifically (C) explicitly (D) implicitly
3. The price of fresh produce _____ according to the weather.
(A) fluctuates (B) foments (C) forgoes (D) forebodes
4. Some people _____ illness in order to obtain insurance compensations.
(A) facilitate (B) fabricate (C) felicitate (D) fascinate
5. The civil rights lawyer found _____ in the U.S. embassy; he is currently under the protection of the U.S. government.
(A) sabotage (B) scapegoat (C) segregation (D) sanctuary
6. The single mother has published three novels using a _____.
(A) protocol (B) pseudonym (C) propensity (D) prosecution
7. Steve was raised in a multi-ethnic background, so that's why he is a _____.
(A) polyglot (B) philanthropist (C) plagiarist (D) parasite
8. The kidnappers have been convicted of several _____ and will soon be sentenced to death penalty.
(A) fiascos (B) frauds (C) fugitives (D) felonies
9. We will be receiving the Australian _____ this afternoon. Please get the presentation ready before lunch.
(A) delinquency (B) delegation (C) demeanor (D) deliberation
10. Although modern physiology is quite developed, we may just have a _____ knowledge of human body.
(A) rudimentary (B) sophisticated (C) predatory (D) prodigal
11. To get as many votes as possible, each mayor candidate is very careful not to _____ rural voters.
(A) absolve (B) antagonize (C) arraign (D) assuage
12. My father has quit smoking again, and there will be no _____ this time; he has to get over with it once and for all.
(A) backbiting (B) backstabbing (C) backsliding (D) backwashing
13. When I finally arrived at the airport, my husband made a _____ of checking his watch and shaking it in disbelief.
(A) pantomime (B) pandemonium (C) polytheism (D) predominance
14. The people in this remote mountain village have their own _____ which they use on a daily basis.
(A) locution (B) epilogue (C) eulogy (D) soliloquy
15. The _____ of the unfair law was urged by all political parties as well as the public in the country.
(A) hyperbole (B) prognosis (C) succor (D) rescission
16. Barbara has been tied up with her work for the entire week, but she _____ said yes to help her sister move.
(A) sparsely (B) grudgingly (C) tacitly (D) vicariously
17. Tim didn't _____ long before he accepted the offer from another company. Obviously, he was allured by the incredibly high pay.
(A) preponderate (B) extradite (C) trespass (D) cogitate

尚有試題，請翻頁續答

18. Before his heart surgery, my grandfather was feeling a lot of ____, but the doctor gave him a lot of reassurance.
 (A) trepidation (B) stigma (C) notoriety (D) homage
19. Nike is now trying to persuade contract manufacturers that better labor practices and sustainability improves productivity with lower worker ____ and reduced costs.
 (A) makeover (B) takeover (C) crossover (D) turnover
20. It is believed that psychological ____ of a devastating cancer diagnosis may kill patients before their disease does.
 (A) poll (B) toll (C) roll (D) doll

II. Discourse Organization (10%, 2% for each)

Over the course of time, our predecessors have created many activities to pass time. Reading, exercising, and fishing are some examples. Now we find that these pastimes are being replaced by computers, mobile phones and digital products of all kinds. _____21_____

In the past, traditional learning was done face to face. People got to know each others' temperament well enough. _____22_____ But with the coming of the digital age and invention of television and internet phone, communication and learning has evolved significantly, without restriction of geography or demographics. _____23_____ You can even easily communicate with your idols by leaving supportive messages on their website or Facebook page. Bee Gees singer Robin Gibbs, for example, after reported to have shown signs of recovery from his coma by BBC UK news, the singer's website is down because of traffic volumes, with fans directed to his Facebook page, where messages of support can be left. However, though we may be blessed with the convenience of tons of information from the web, we oftentimes have no idea what sources the information is from.

Even the act of reading has taken a shift by advancement in electronics. Undeniably, electronic book readers offer large storage space. _____24_____ However, the experience of reading an actual book along with our appreciation for the ink-printed words are now slowly disappearing. It is almost like being stuffed with fast food, because we are in such a hurry to read the next classic.

Now you can spend a whole afternoon with a PSP or a computer without any interaction with another person. _____25_____ Some are perfectly content with a computer by themselves.

~from BBC (<http://www.bbs.co.uk/news/entertainment-arts-17798956>)

- (A) A server can store several libraries worth of information.
 (B) If you want to, you can even chat with strangers thousands of miles away about almost anything.
 (C) The games that require collaboration between a group of people are slowly forgotten.
 (D) Thoughts and feelings were exchanged in person.
 (E) Nevertheless, this is the trend we should adjust ourselves to.

| | | | | |
|----------|----------|----------|----------|----------|
| 21 | 22 | 23 | 24 | 25 |
| E | D | B | A | C |

III. Develop a lesson plan of explicit teaching relative clauses. (20%)

略

IV. “Writing” will be one part of the future entrance exam. Read through the article below and design six writing questions according to 【104 學年度四技二專統一入學測驗共同科目英文科增加之非選擇題型】. After each question, state your methods of enhancing students' ability in answering each type of the questions. (30%)

略

People have shaken hands for hundreds of years. It seems that the custom began long ago during dangerous times. A man would reach out his hand to another so that he could show that he was not carrying a weapon. From that, grasping the hand of the other is seen as a sign of good intentions. Originally, the custom of shaking hands was limited to men. The custom of women shaking hands did not occur until women started demanding equality with men.

Of course, there is more than one way to shake a hand. But exactly what makes a good handshake? Robert E. Brown gives the answer in his book, The Art, the Power, the Magic: How to Read Hands That Talk.

For example, to do the All-American Handshake, you have to look into the other person's eyes, grasp his or her whole hand, and pump it two or three times. According to Brown, this is the handshake of a good listener and a trustworthy person.

Politicians and salespeople often use the Two-handed Shake because it seems so friendly. Two-handed shakers put their left hand on the other person's arm or shoulder as they shake hands. However, it's best to use it merely with good friends because this can feel too friendly to some people.

Watch out for people with handshakes that pull your fingers, or twist and crush your hand. If you get one of these handshakes, the person may want to make you feel he or she is stronger than you.

Two more uncomfortable handshakes are the Palm Pinch and the Dead Fish. A Palm Pincher shakes your hand with only a few fingers. In the Dead Fish Shake, the person's hand slides out of the handshake. It's possible that people shake hands these ways because they are embarrassed or shy.

Shaking hands is an important part of body language. It can identify someone as truthful, friendly, powerful, or nervous. It's hard to be successful without mastering a good handshake, such as the All-American. If the All-American isn't your natural handshake, don't worry. Mr. Brown says that you can change your handshake with lots of practice. So, go on out there and start shaking hands. Just think of all the people you can meet.

~from 龍騰職校英文 Book II Lesson 7