

Mathematic Concept Development

The course will introduce students' mathematical knowledge levels and mathematical problem solving performance. In addition, cognitive guided instruction & constructive instruction for students' learning will be studied.

Thus, to promote students' mathematic knowledge level and problem solving performance, problem posing and question skills for mathematic teaching will be explored.