Call for applications 2025
in the framework of the "Taiwan Studies Programme" agreement 2025-2028 between Ghent University, Groningen University, the University of Tartu and the Department of International and Cross-Strait Education (DICE), MoE, Taiwan.

Dear colleagues,
Dear partner universities in Taiwan,

Ghent University, as coordinator of the new Taiwan Studies Programme 2025-2028, that will run for a duration of 3 years from the academic year 2025-2026 until the academic year 2027-2028 in the following 3 European partner universities:

- Ghent University (Belgium)
- the University of Groningen (The Netherlands)
- the University of Tartu (Estonia)

is happy to announce the launch of the first Call for Applications in the framework of the new Memorandum of Understanding between three European institutions and the Department of International and Cross-Strait Education (DICE), Ministry of Education (MOE), Republic of China (Taiwan).

The "Taiwan Studies Programme at UGent/RUG//UTartu" has a duration of 3 academic years from the effective date of the signing by the Ministry of Education (MOE), Republic of China (Taiwan).

The goal of this first call for applications is twofold as we aim to find:

- 1) a candidate (Taiwan Chair holder) for the second semester of the new academic year 2025-2026 in the University of Tartu (Estonia).
- 2) a candidate (Taiwan Chair holder) for the second semester of the new academic year 2025-2026 in the University of Groningen (The Netherlands).

Each of the two professorial fellowships offered by the programme in the framework of this first call for applications should be occupied by one candidate, with a duration of 4 months per stay.

With regard to research and teaching activities and subject to compliance with applicable university laws, the Professorial Fellow (academic scholar) shall be treated equally as professors (academic staff) at the partner universities.

The parties agree that the Professorial Fellow's activities under and in connection with this MoU shall comply with the rules of good scientific practice under which the university partners to this MoU are operating.

DICE will provide the Professorial Fellow with a monthly allowance and a round-trip international airline ticket (Max. 1,250 € airfare per person).

Additionally, Ghent University, the University of Groningen and the University of Tartu, when acting as the respective hosting institution, will provide the Professorial Fellow with housing. Furthermore, the respective host universities will provide the Professorial Fellow with all necessary facilities such as office space, a computer and secretarial support.

IMPORTANT NOTICE:

The entire duration of the professorial fellowship should be exercised during the academic year 2025-2026 (1st year of the new Taiwan Studies programme) .

We would like to draw your special attention to the fact that the selected candidate for the 2nd semester in the University of Groningen (The Netherlands) will have to organize a workshop during her/his mobility period there.

Profile:

- PhD in Social Sciences, Political Sciences or History and Culture (preferably with focus on politics, international relations, law, economics, contemporary history, intellectual history, geopolitics).
- Expertise with research and education on Taiwanese and East Asian studies.
- Good command of English (spoken and written).
- Ability to teach on EU-East Asia relations at MA level; involvement in MA courses on East Asia and EU-East Asia relations
- Ability to organize research seminars for PhD students in their area of expertise

Candidates for the Professorial Fellowship shall be selected from any university or institution of higher learning in the Republic of China (Taiwan). The Professorial Fellow selected shall preferably be an/a (associate) professor on sabbatical leave from the Republic of China (Taiwan), and shall have minimal qualifications as a Ph.D. holder.

Duties:

- The Professorial Fellow will teach classes related to Taiwan Studies on one or more aspects of international relations in an East Asian context. The term 'international relations' broadly encompasses the areas of: foreign policy; global and regional governance; international law; international political economy; IR theory; security studies; geopolitics and global/transregional/regional history.
- The Professorial Fellow who will hold the chair at the University of Groningen will also have to organize a workshop related to her/his area of expertise.
- The Professorial Fellow shall submit a report to DICE and to the Faculty Board of Ghent University, the Centre of East Asian Studies at the University of Groningen and the University of Tartu regarding her or his academic work at the end of each appointment period.
The Ministry, Ghent University, the University of Groningen. and the University of Tartu may publish the said report.
- Each Professorial Fellows will provide 1 news article along with photos of their Taiwan Studies related activities, such as lectures, workshops, courses, etc., to upload on the Taiwan Studies website per academic year.

Documents that should be submitted:

- Curriculum vitae
- Motivation letter
- Letter of consent and recommendation letter of your home institution signed by the relevant responsible person in your faculty/college/school.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS:

For both positions the applications should be submitted the latest by Friday 24 October 2025, 9:00 am CET.

Please send your application to the following address: inge.mangelschots@ugent.be

The selection results will be announced by the middle of November 2025.

I would be very grateful if you could disseminate this Call for applications in your university.
